definition Let (Ω, A, P) be a probability space and let $T \subset R$ be time. A collection of random variables $X_t, t \in T$ with values in R is called a stochastic process.